

Alisha T. Morgan BIO

Alisha Thomas Morgan is the Executive Director/Superintendent of Ivy Preparatory Academies, a network of single gender schools in the metropolitan Atlanta area. Prior to leading IPA, Morgan served six terms in the Georgia House of Representatives where she served on the, Education, Appropriations, and Health & Human Services Committees. First elected at the age of 23, Morgan made history by becoming the first African American to serve in the Georgia House from Cobb County. She is a known national leader in education. As a trailblazer, Morgan has been featured in several publications including The New York Times, The Washington Post, and Georgia Trend, Ebony, Marie Claire, and Essence magazines. She is the author of the book entitled No Apologies, Powerful Lessons in Life Love and Politics. Morgan is a graduate of Spelman College in Atlanta, GA where she earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in both Sociology and Drama. She is currently earning a Master's degree in Education Leadership at Kennesaw State University. She is also a 2015 graduate of the prestigious Broad Superintendents Academy. An intense 18 month program that trains leaders to lead large urban school districts. A proud mother of a fourth grader, Morgan resides in Austell, GA with her family.